ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH SERVICES, INC. Earns Mark of Excellence in Pest Management

Norwood, Mass • March 9, 2009 – Environmental Health Services, Inc. (EHS), a pest management company with 24yrs experience serving Massachusetts and Rhode Island, has earned the coveted QualityPro Schools designation, meaning that the company recognizes that pests in schools need to be managed in a careful and environmentally responsible way. EHS is one of only 50 companies nationwide that have qualified for the prestigious acclamation.

Becoming a QualityPro Schools company means that EHS has taken extraordinary steps to ensure that schools can rely on them to provide sound pest management solutions. In addition to fulfilling the thorough and in-depth QualityPro requirements, EHS has trained all of its schools technicians and salespeople on specific school IPM techniques above and beyond any state requirements.

Taking these steps clearly demonstrates that EHS cares about protecting children in the school environment. As a member of this exclusive group Environmental Health Services, Inc. has placed itself in the top echelon of pest management companies in the country.

“Becoming QualityPro Schools was important to us, because we believe the management of pests in a sensitive environment like a school demands special care,” said John Stellberger, EHS president. “This designation, like the QualityPro program, offers schools solid proof of the careful way our company offers its services in schools.”

QualityPro Schools companies have met qualifications built around five key principles: Business Operations, Consumer Relations, Environmental Stewardship, Technician Training, and School Integrated Pest Management. These qualifications include employing only highly trained, credentialed employees; offering a clear, easy-to-understand warranty and termite service agreement; maintaining a drug-free workplace; advertising truthfully and ethically; and maintaining an up-to-date insurance policy.

EHS is proud to be serving communities as a QualityPro Schools company. For more information about how we can serve you better, visit www.ehspest.com or call 888-PEST-MGMT.
